Two sapphires those dear eyes of thine
Scenical duet over a text by Heinrich Heine (1827)

Music: Christoph Dalitz (1992)
Translation: Alma Streitelli (1856–1939)

First singer appears and sings:

1. Two sapphires those dear eyes of thine, soft as the skies above thee; Thrice happy is the man to whom those dear eyes say: "I love thee."

Second singer appears and sings (music as in stanza 1):

2. A diamond is thy heart that gleams with rays of purest fire; Thrice happy is the man for whom it glows with love’s desire.

Version 1.1 from 11.03.2020
Both sing together:

3. Two rubies are those lips of thine, Unrivall’d in fresh glory;

Thricehappy is the man to whom they whisper their love story.

4. Could I but meet that lucky man, but meet that happy lover

Meet him alone in some dark wood: His joy would soon be over...

Optional: Second singer falls forward with a dummy knife in his back.
