

XIII. Now cease my wandring eies

John Dowland

S

1. Now cease my wand - ring eies, Strange beaw - ties to ad - mire,
In change least com - fort lies, Long joyes yeeld long de - sire.

2. One man hath but one soule, Which art can - not di - vide,
If all one soule must love, Two loves most be de - nide,

3. Na - ture two eyes hath given, All beau - tie to im - part,
As - well in earth as heaven, But she hath given one hart,

A

1. Now cease my wand - ring eyes, strange beaw - ties to ad - myre.
In change least com - fort lyes, long Joyes yeld long de - syre.

2. One man hath but one soule, Which art can - not di - vide,
If all one soule must love, Two loves most be de - nide,

3. Na - ture two eyes hath given, All beau - tie to im - part,
As - well in earth as heaven, But she hath given one hart,

T

1. Now cease my wand - ring eyes, strange bew - ties to ad - myre.
In change least com - fort lyes, long Joyes yeld long de - syre.

XIII. Now cease my wandering eies

2

One faith one love, Makes our fraile plea - sures e - ter - nall,
 New hopes new loves are still with sor - row de - cli - ning,
 One soule one love, By faith and me - rit u - ni - ted
 Dis - trac - ted spirits, Are ev - er chang - ing and hap - lesse
 That though we see, Ten thou - sand beau - ties yet in us
 One sted - fast love, Be - cause our harts stand fixt al - though

Notes:

1. The source for this edition is John Dowland's "The Second Book of Songs or Ayres, of 2, 4, and 5 parts." Printed by Thomas Este for Thomas Morley, 1600.
2. Words are spelled as they appear in the edition of 1600. Obvious printing errors have been corrected.
3. The key signatures are as they appear in the original.
4. Additional bar lines have been used.
5. The original is laid out for a group of singers/players around a table, with the words of the first verse under the music of each part. The remaining verses are printed out once, separately.
6. Songs numbered I to VIII are two-part songs.
