Translation

1. O Christ, who is light and day, you drive away the darkness of night; you are believed to be the light of light, proclaiming blessed light.
2. We beseech you, holy Lord, to defend us this night; may our rest be in you; grant us a peaceful night.
3. Let not unwholesome dreams seize us, nor the enemy snatch us away, nor the flesh, yielding to him, make us guilty in thy sight.
4. While our eyes sleep, may our hearts always stay watchful to you; may your hand protect your loving servants.
5. O our defender, look upon us, restrain those who plot against us; guide your servants whom you have redeemed with your blood.
6. Be mindful of us, O Lord, burdened with a body; you who are the defender of the soul, be present with us, O Lord.
7. Glory be to God the Father, and to his only Son, with the Holy Spirit, both now and for ever. Amen.

The Music

This is one of four alternatim settings that White composed of the hymn Christe qui lux es et dies, which in the Latin services of his youth was sung at Compline from the first Sunday in Lent until Passion Sunday. It is presented here for liturgical performance with plainsong verses added from a Sarum hymnal. However it is not certain that White envisaged performance in this way. For one thing, it is probable that, in the liturgy, the choral verses of Tudor hymn settings alternated not with monophonic plainsong, but with organ verses. For another, it is possible that White composed his settings during Elizabeth's reign for secular recreation. Such performances would normally not have included the plainsong verses, which do not appear in the sources with the polyphony. However, it is perhaps conceivable that such performances might occasionally have emulated the old tradition by alternating the vocal verses with verses played on a keyboard instrument.

Editorial Conventions

The nomenclature of the voice-parts follows the Tudor convention.

The original clef, staff signature, mensuration symbol and first note of each part are shown on the prefatory staves.

Editorial accidentals are placed above the notes concerned.

Ligatures are denoted by the sign  $\lrcorner$ .

Spelling of the text has been modernised.

Text repetition signs in the underlay have been expanded editorially in italics.

Notes on the Readings of the Sources

In the notes below multiple readings in the same voice are separated by commas and readings in different voices by semicolons. The order within each entry is: 1) bar number; 2) voice; 3) source; 4) reading of the source. For extended references subsequent bar numbers are in brackets. Pitches are in capital letters, preceded by a number if necessary, e.g. <sup>1</sup>E = first note E in the bar. Note values are abbreviated in italics. The sign  $\text{?}$  denotes an underlay repetition sign and + a tie.
