

Paria

Nahum Tate and Nicholas Brady, 1698 66.66.12.4

E Major – William Billings, 1784

Treble
Ye boundless realms of joy, Ex - alt your Maker's fame. His praise your songs employ above the starry frame.

Counter
Ye boundless realms of joy, Ex - alt your Maker's fame. His praise your songs employ above the starry frame.

Tenor
8
Ye boundless realms of joy, Ex - alt your Maker's fame. His praise your songs employ above the starry frame.

Bass
Ye boundless realms of joy, Ex - alt your Maker's fame. His praise your songs employ above the starry frame. Your 10

Tr.
Your voices raise ye cher - u - bim and ser - aph - im, Your

C.
Your voices raise ye cher - u - bim and ser - aph - im to

T.
8
Your voices raise ye cher - u - bim and ser - aph - im Your voices raise ye

B. voices raise ye cher - u - bim and ser - aph - im, to sing His praise. Your

17
Tr.
1. 2.
voic - es raise, ye cher - u - bim and ser - aph - im to sing His praise. praise.

C.
sing His praise. Your voices raise ye cher - u - bim and ser - aph - im to sing His praise. praise.

T.
8
cher - u - bim and ser - aph - im, to sing His praise, to sing His praise, to sing His praise. praise.

B. voice - es raise, ye cher - u - bim and ser - aph - im to sing His praise. Your praise.

No Copyright. Transcribed from Massachusetts Harmony, 1784.

Published anonymously in 1784; attributed to William Billings by Karl Kroeger, The Hymn 47(3):44-49. 1996.