

Charles Wesley, 1762

Scripture Hymns No. 917 (Prov. 30:8)

77. 78.

Transcribed from The New American Melody, 1789.

G Major

Jacob French, 1789

Attention

Tr.  5 10

1. Thou to me, O God, hast sent, Food, and raiment, and con-tent; Food and rai-ment, Yet for farther grace I sue, For poverty, and riches
 2. Both, and both at once, I want: Po-ver-ty of spi-rit grant, Of spi-rit grant, And fill me Father from above With all the riches of thy

C.

1. Thou to me, O God, hast sent, Food, and raiment, and con-tent; Yet for farther grace I sue, For poverty, and riches
 2. Both, and both at once, I want: Po-ver-ty of spi-rit grant, And fill me Father from above With all the riches of thy

T.

1. Thou to me, O God, hast sent, Food, and raiment, and con-tent; Yet for farther grace I sue, For poverty, and riches
 2. Both, and both at once, I want: Po-ver-ty of spi-rit grant, And fill me Father from above With all the riches of thy

B.

Tr.  15 20

1. too. For po-ver-ty, and ri-ches too: For po-ver-ty, and ri-ches too:
 2. love. With all the ri-ches of thy love. With all the ri-ches of thy love.

C.

1. too. For po-ver-ty, and ri-ches too: For po-ver-ty, and ri-ches too:
 2. love. With all the ri-ches of thy love. With all the ri-ches of thy love.

T.

1. too. For po-ver-ty, and ri-ches too: For po-ver-ty, and ri-ches too:
 2. love. With all the ri-ches of thy love. With all the ri-ches of thy love.

B.

1. too. For po-ver-ty, and ri-ches too: For po-ver-ty, and ri-ches too, and ri-ches too. For
 2. love. With all the ri-ches of thy love. With all the ri-ches, all the ri-ches of thy love. With